Air Raid Safety Instructions

Due to the armed aggression of the Russian Federation, the high likelihood of strikes on civilian infrastructure, and in order to preserve the life and health of event participants, the Ukrainian Bar Association (hereafter referred to as UBA) hereby establishes the following safety rules in the event of an air raid during meetings:

- The UBA Secretariat is required to inform participants, experts, and moderators about the air raid safety rules prior to the start of the event by posting information on the event page.
- The moderator is obligated to notify participants and experts of the start of an air raid, indicate the location of the nearest shelter, and provide instructions for further actions.
- The Secretariat, participants, and experts of the event must proceed to the nearest shelter.
- The event will be paused during the air raid if there is confirmed information about a ballistic threat or missile launch. If the event has not started at the time of the air raid, it will commence after the air raid has ended.
- After the air raid has concluded, the event will continue if the alert lasted less than two hours. If the alert lasted more than two hours, the event may be rescheduled or canceled.
- If the air raid interrupts the last speaker or speakers, the event may be concluded early by decision of the organizers.
- Participants and experts at the event are required to carry personal identification documents and drinking water.
- Return to the event venue is possible after receiving verified notification that the air raid has ended.
- Each participant and expert bears personal responsibility for complying with the requirements for responding to the warning system signal, and for maintaining their own health and life.
- For any issues during the air raid, please contact the event organizer's representative.
